

KEEPING SAFE ONLINE

Ahh the wonders of the internet. So useful, and so absorbing. But, it pays to stop and think sometimes. Be fully aware, and make informed decisions about how to go about your daily business on the internet.

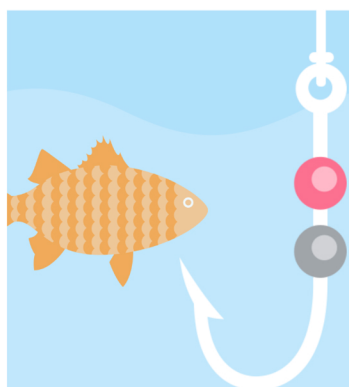

AWARENESS:

Stop and think. Do you know what 3rd party groups your details are being shared with? What do you know about these advertisers? Are they ethical? Do you agree with what they sell?

MANAGE YOUR PERSONAL DETAILS:

Be selective with what you share. Even though most sites let you set privacy, you never know when these might be compromised. Think about what personal details are appropriate.

PHISHING:

Your bank, or any other service you've signed up to, will never, ever ask you to confirm any details by email. Be suspicious if a company seems to be asking you to remind them of data that they already have.
